Announcing!

The answer to last month's trivia question: Which instrumental music professor starred in musicals in high school?

Mr. Nevada Mills!

Pictured here playing Lancelot in Camelot!

We drew a name from all guessers (right or wrong ☺) and Lauren Terry wins the cookies!

In an attempt to make the music library more usable, we have placed a few labels on the shelves to help you find things. Thanks so much for the suggestion, Dr. Isenhour! Also, the music library website has been updated! If you click on Suggestion Box, the form appears before your very eyes. ☺

Have you seen this? ovrtur.com

From the website: "Ovrtur catalogs musicals from New York, London and beyond...1000s of shows...people and companies that made them and the stages where they played." It's fun to browse, provides a great jumping-off place toward YouTube.
